Randy Pausch

Randy Pausch is a wonderful speaker and the way he told stories was exciting and refreshing. One of the things I found most intriguing from the last Lecture is Randy has tumors in his liver. He explains that when we can't change what has happened all we can do is choose how to respond. Randy goes on to explain that he doesn't want pity from people and that he won't be covering religious topics or things that are more important than childhood dreams like a wife and kids.

Randy Pausch was a happy kid with a good childhood. He stresses being able to bring something to the table, which will make you more welcomed. Both of Randy's parents are very inspirational. A big point for Randy is that you should never give up. Getting people to help you is another point that Randy touched on. This lecture is not about how to achieve your dreams but how to live your life.
